Leave (leaveyouragent.com) helps athletes be their own agent. Working inside the AI tools athletes already use — ChatGPT, Claude, and Gemini — Leave answers to “Hey Leave,” confirms an athlete’s public record by voice, explains any endorsement or player contract in plain language, and spins a web of revenue opportunities from public data through the Leave Web. Every account includes one Talent Teammate seat. Leave is launching soon as a $99/month subscription with a 30-day free trial, and it never takes a commission; the waitlist is open at leaveyouragent.com, and an iOS demo is open to the public on TestFlight at testflight.apple.com/join/EXTQvCGW. Leave organizes publicly available information and explains terms; it is not a licensed agent and does not provide legal or financial advice.
